

Aviation

Program Description

Do you want to become a professional pilot and make a career out of aviation by getting your Commercial Pilots License, or do you just want your Private Pilot's License so you can do some recreational flying on the weekends? With the aviation program through EICCD, you can achieve either goal. Along the way through the program you can obtain other ratings which include an Instrument Rating, Multi-Engine Rating and Instructors License. You are able to receive credit for each one of these ratings as well.

After completing the program, you will have a commercial pilot's license. A commercial license can be a good starting point for earning an airline pilot's transport license.

Flight training is provided at the Davenport Municipal Airport in Davenport near Mount Joy, Iowa.

Job Outlook

Employment of aircraft pilots and flight engineers is projected to grow 12 percent from 2008 to 2018, which is about as fast as the average for all occupations. Earnings of aircraft pilots and flight engineers vary greatly depending whether they work as airline or commercial pilots. In May 2008, median annual wages of airline pilots, copilots, and flight engineers were $111,680. The middle 50 percent earned between $81,580 and $150,480. Median annual wages of commercial pilots is $65,340. The middle 50 percent earned between $45,680 and $89,540.
